

Turn-Key Solutions

Assembly

AFRY has extensive skills in developing customized machines and integrating machines into complete assembly lines, in order to maximize output, with the simplest design, for the lowest possible cost. We support you all the way, from feasibility study, to the start of production.

Manufacturing

In the field of manufacturing, AFRY offers great solutions for cost efficient and high qualitative advanced manufacturing operations for all industries. AFRY's extensive experience and knowledge in productivity & production technology helps our customers remain competitive.

Handling

The term “material handling” includes a wide variety of product movements on the shop floor. Part selection, transferring, machine tending, disengaging, packing, palletizing, loading, and unloading, are some of the applications within AFRY core competencies.

Automotive

AFRY develop production lines for automotive OEM's, and their sub-suppliers. With extensive skills, we help our customers develop and integrate systems to complete turn-key systems. Our experience with automotive in general, and Body-In-White production in particular, enables us to offer services within all the different areas from body shop to final assembly.

Jonas Gustavsson, President and CEO, AFRY

AFRY has successfully completed a large number of automation projects, undertaking complete turn-key automation systems, from prestudy to commissioning. Our experienced teams have the competence and background within project implementation, to ensure our customers a safe implementation.
