ÅF wins order from Volvo Cars

ÅF has signed yet another agreement with Volvo Car Corporation. The order relates primarily to robotic process automation, which is one of the expertise areas in which ÅF excels in the automotive industry.

For ÅF the project involves the development and delivery of a number of highly automated production lines for Volvo Car Corporation.

The project will be carried out mainly from ÅF's office in Olofström, Sweden.

"ÅF has built up a reputation of being a creative and innovative integrator in robotic process automation, with a base of returning customers, knowing they benefit from our knowledge and skills", says Per Magnusson, President of the Industry Division, with around 3,500 engineers.
