ÅF wins 3.4 million euro consulting contract in Croatia

ÅF's Process Division has signed a contract for Owner's Engineer services for Sisak's gas-fired power plant in Croatia.

The contract comprises consulting services for the design and manufacturing phases, installation supervision and commissioning of a 230 MW power plant.

The client is the state-owned energy company HEP Proizvodnja d.o.o., which produces 80 % of the electricity demand in Croatia.

ÅF has been cooperating with the client on the Sisak project since 2003, starting with the preparation of the feasibility study and providing continued support during the concept design, preparation of tender documents and contractor selection phases, as well as with the preparation of the Power Island delivery contract and commercial and technical contract negotiations.
